

AUGUST AT THE BEACH

New Energy Instilled by the Cooler Weather.

TROLLEY PARTIES TO CAPE

The Surf Still Makes First Claim for the Afternoons—House Parties and Social Entertainments at Cottages.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
VIRGINIA BEACH, VA., August 22.—The temperature at the beach for the past week has been quite like the early autumn days, bringing long walks through the woods and along the beach. In the afternoon no one can resist the delights of the surf. The fad for the past few weeks seems to be trolley parties to Cape Henry at night, where dancing at the new pavilion is indulged in, and the strollers find many romantic spots around the historic old lighthouse to while away the time.

PRIZE FLINCH PARTY.
Mrs. Hope, who is entertaining a house party at the Wilkeson Cottage, gave a progressive flinch party to her daughter, Miss Mary Hope, on Tuesday evening. Among those invited were Misses Nancy Wash, Grace Greenwood, Virginia Dance, Lucy Thom, Fannie and Virginia Ethridge, and Ellen Kersey. The first prize, a plaque, was won by Miss Nancy Hope; the second, a candlestick, by Miss Ellen Kersey, and the booby fell to Miss Grace Greenwood.

On Monday morning, at Mrs. Tom Pannill's cottage, "Wild Rose" was held among the enjoyable subscription euche parties. Among those who played were Mrs. Pannill, Mrs. George Pollard, Mrs. Fitzhugh, Mrs. Charles Johnston, Mrs. William Pannill, Mrs. Daniel, Mrs. A. M. Cook, Mrs. E. T. Gaines, James Waddill, Greenwood, Parr, Perry, A. P. Pannill, Lizzie Perry, Charles, Peter, John and Tom Pollard, the Misses Christian, Lizzie Freeman, Temple, Sue Peterson, Mahoney, Baker, Gray, Youngman, Laura Bridges, Jordan, Susie Stanchon, Helen Venable, Cook, Lucie Pannill, Edna Moren, Carrie Archie, Lullie Doyle, and John M. Townsend, McHenry, Helen Jamison, and Beanie Merritt, Mrs. Peed. The first prize was won by Mrs. Allan M. Cook, of Norfolk, a white sweater; the second by Miss Anna Johnston, of Virginia Beach, a cut glass flask; the third silver pen, by Miss Beanie Merritt, of Norfolk, and the booby, a kimono, by Miss Christian.

TROLLEY PARTY.

A delightful trolley party was given to Cape Henry Tuesday evening by Mrs. Fitzhugh, in honor of guests. After exploring the lighthouse and enjoying the many other attractions the Cape afforded, the party proceeded to the pavilion, where a delicious supper, which was arranged by their gracious hostess. Another jolly crowd left the beach on a trolley party Saturday evening, given by Mr. and Mrs. Garland Peed, of Norfolk. As soon as the car reached the Cape, the crowd went to the pavilion, where the gorman was danced until a late hour. Upon their return to Mrs. Pollard's cottage, where Mr. and Mrs. Peed are spending the summer, a delightful supper was served. Among those invited were Misses Lucie Pannill, Ethel Worrell, Susie Strachan, Nanci Whitman, Ruth and Hattie Colquitt, Alabama; Emily Wilson, of Norfolk; Miss Sue Peterson, of Alabama; Miss Christine Cook, of Baltimore; Mrs. Campbell and Miss Doda-meade; Dr. Brennan and Hall; Mr. Miller and Zaster, of Baltimore; Lieutenant Rhodes, United States navy; Mr. Southgate Taylor, Jimmie Johnston, Willie Henderson, Raymond Peed, Battle, Smithers, Carney, Boush, Campbell and Hawkins, of Norfolk.

CARDS AND PUNCH.

There was a charming card party at Mrs. Fitzhugh's Wednesday. A delicious supper was served. The prizes were won by Mrs. Temple, a pearl brooch; Mrs. Daniel, of Washington, a fan; Mrs. Land, of Virginia Beach, a cut glass dish; Mrs. Van Lender, of New York, a Gossin picture.

Mr. and Mrs. Parr, of Staunton, are at Mrs. Danco's cottage.
The Misses O'Brien, of Richmond, are spending the week at Ocean Wave Cottage.

Mrs. Williams, of Washington, is the guest of Mrs. Waddell at her cottage, "Grey Arches."
Mrs. Goode and Miss Goode, of Staunton, are stopping at Mrs. Danco's.

Mrs. Christine Cook, of Alabama, is the guest of Mrs. George M. Pollard.
Mrs. Adkins, Miss Stanley Adkins and Miss Mary Adkins returned to their home in Richmond on Monday, after spending several weeks at the Victoria.

HOUSE PARTY.

A very delightful house party is being entertained at Mrs. Fitzhugh's cottage by Mr. T. L. Tonia. Mrs. Temple's guests are Mr. and Mrs. William Temple, Mrs. Alice Temple, Mrs. Lewis, Misses Gresham, Tyler, Walker, Marguerite Temple, George Temple and Morton McDermott; Messrs. Lewis, T. L. Temple, Jr., Rodgers and Latine.
Among some of the latest arrivals at the cottages are to be found Mrs. Freeman, Miss Mallory, Mrs. Short, Miss Peabody, Mr. and Mrs. Williams, King, Meiers, Alexander, Davenport, Bain, Barker, Baldwin and Guss, of Mr. Fitzhugh's.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Noel and son, of Danville; Dr. and Mrs. Amich, of Cincinnati; Mr. Fitzhugh and Tighman, of Norfolk, are at the Victoria.
The Misses Baker, of Washington; Major and Mrs. McFeer, Marysville, Tenn.; Mr. Arthur Towle, of Washington; Mr. W. R. Berkley, Mr. J. R. Clayton, Newport News; Mr. Harper, Boston; Miss Duffy, Greensboro, N. C., at Queen Anne Cottage.
Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Eldridge, of Berkeley; Dr. E. F. Reese, Miss Carrie Reese, of Southampton; Mrs. McAnage and Miss Adams, of Suffolk, are at the Victoria.
Mr. Emory, of Walden; Mr. Whedbee, of North Carolina; Mr. Dupee and family, of Ohio; Mrs. Short and son, Washington, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Bromley, of Norfolk; Mrs. Battle, of Radford, and Miss Gorma Mitchell, of Norfolk, Ocean Wave Cottage.
Miss Betty, of Richmond, is spending several days with Judge Waddill.

Little Girl Knocked Down.

Nelle, the two and a half years old child of Mrs. A. Kregel, of No. 204 East Main Street, was yesterday knocked down by Clay Street car No. 297. The wheels narrowly missed crushing her feet. Fortunately she was not injured, only badly frightened.

FULL HOUSE CHALYBEATE

The Past Week the Gayest of the Season.

PROPRIETOR'S GERMAN

The Gayety for the Week Wound Up With a Phantom Ball on Saturday Night—Guests Booked Until October.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
SWEET CHALYBEATE SPRINGS, August 22.—Never in the history of the present management have there been so many guests at this place, for since the first of August every room has been filled and people turned away each day. The crowd is most congenial, and everybody is having a good time. The outlook for September is very bright and a gay month is promised. A large number of guests here now will remain and rooms are already engaged by others to come, until October, at least.

A GAY WEEK.
The past week was the gayest of the season, and on Wednesday night the manager, Mr. B. F. Eakie, gave his large German, as has been his custom for years, and this was no exception in brilliance and enjoyment. The ball-room was beautifully decorated in evergreens, ferns and potted plants, and behind this screen sat the band, who discoursed sweet music throughout the evening. At 9 o'clock Mr. Ben Blackford blew the whistle and began leading the couples through some beautiful figures, with his partner, Miss Nina Armistead, of Baltimore. At 11 o'clock the march to the dining-room was led by Mr. and Mrs. Eakie, and the guests followed by the other chaperones and then the dancers. Here the many tables were most artistically decorated in flowers and ferns, each one having a different design, and were beautiful. Refreshments with punch were served, for which dancing was resumed until 12:30, when "Home, Sweet Home," was played, and all said good-night. The chaperones were Professor and Mrs. Danby, of Knoxville, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Hutton, of Huntington, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hughes, of Norfolk; Mrs. M. A. Cushman, of St. Louis; Mrs. Charles Willis, of Richmond; Mrs. George McCauley, of Jacksonville; Mrs. Sterritt, of Alexandria; Mrs. Adam Westwell, of Norfolk; Mrs. Arthur Floyd, of East Orange, N. J.; Mrs. Seyd, of New York; Among the dancers were Mrs. E. M. Sanderson, Mrs. Holden, Mrs. Graham Hobson, Mrs. DuBois, Mrs. Charles Hester, Misses Margaret and Alice Old, Mrs. Marshall, Nina Armistead, Mary Lewis, Nora Houston, Helen Smith, Margaret Garland, Isabelle Jenkins, Carolyn Cohn, Mary King, Messrs. Pelham Rickard, Bynum, Garner, Denmead, William Boykin, Jr., James Patton, Ben Blackford, Harry Penwick, Pattee, Hall, James Sterritt, David Edmunds.

On Sunday morning Rev. Arthur S. Lloyd administered holy communion at 7:30 to a large number of Episcopalians in the parlor, and the service was most impressive. At 11 o'clock Rev. N. E. Stahl held services in the ball-room, and the Presbyterian service was used, when the room was filled with worshippers. On Saturday last the members of the Long Bridge Sunday-school were invited to the Springs for their annual picnic. About fifty came from the neighboring country, and they had their lunch on a large table on the lawn, beneath the trees, afterwards enjoyed playing games, in which a number of guests joined.

PHANTOM BALL.

Saturday night was the phantom ball, and a ghastly sight it was to see the twenty couples arrayed in white robes, with high peaked hats and masks, mingling in the dances. Most amusing mistakes occurred throughout the evening, for many a man mistook his best girl, claiming some one he hardly knew. Ten young ladies in white invited a young man (not masked) to escort them to the spring, which he gladly consented to do, not knowing that the "ghosts" were dumb; so the only reply to his many questions was the nod of ten high caps, until, as the music ceased, the couples were left staring at each other.

Mr. and Mrs. Parr, of Staunton, are at Mrs. Danco's cottage.
The Misses O'Brien, of Richmond, are spending the week at Ocean Wave Cottage.
Mrs. Williams, of Washington, is the guest of Mrs. Waddell at her cottage, "Grey Arches."

CHARACTER PARTY AT ALLEGHANY

A Week Full of Gayety and Merry Events.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

GOSHEN, VA., August 22.—The past week has been one of unprecedented gayety at the Allegany, and the long, sunny days are all too short to contain the swift succession of merry events, and one must needs steal just a few of the young hours of another day to enjoy them to their fullest extent. Tennis, bowling, horseshoe riding and cards still hold prominent places in the forms of amusements, but the event of the week was the "Character Party" of Wednesday evening. So greatly was that of a few weeks ago enjoyed that it was unanimously urged that it be repeated. Many of the participants impersonated the same characters which they did on the former occasion, but most appeared in entirely new roles. The grand match began at 9 o'clock from the parlor, and was led by the Dervish band down the main corridor to the ball-room, where many artistic figures were executed. The rear was brought up by old Aunt Lucindy wheeling Baby Bunting in a baby carriage.

Those participating were the following: Dervish band, composed of the following gentlemen: Professor Thiele, Messrs. J. B. Wood, Leon Bly and H. G. Davis, Mrs. Adolph Klein again took the part of Becky Sharp, and as on the former occasion, took the laurels of the day. Mrs. Ernest Thiele, as a Scottish lassie, was excellent, and made her impersonation very vivid by rendering several of the sweet Highland ballads. Mrs. Benj. H. Nash, the Italian peasant girl, was very cleverly and appropriately attired. Miss Janie Cameron, as a Spanish senorita, won great admiration. Miss Marion L. Wood, as little Lord Fauntleroy, was perfect in the role. Miss Ruby McCormick, as a little pickaninny, carried things to perfection by appearing with a luscious slice of watermelon. Miss Baby Bunting, attended by Mr. A. L. I. Winnie, as Aunt Lucindy, a faithful old mammy, made fun for the audience. Baby Bunting was rolled in a baby carriage, and was very busy with his bottle of milk.

The prizes were awarded as follows: First ladies', Miss Janie Cameron; second, Mrs. Winfield Wells; third, Mrs. Ernest Thiele; fourth, Mrs. Benj. Nash; fifth, Miss Margaret Schmeiz. First gentlemen, Mr. Sam W. Bigger; second, Mr. A. L. I. Winnie; third, Mr. Chauncey McCormick; fourth, Herbert Gomerling, who took the part of a Seminole. First children's prize, Miss Marion Wood; second, Miss Ruby McCormick; third, Master John Moore, a little clown.

The first ladies' prize was unanimously awarded Mrs. A. Klein, but was graciously declined by her on the grounds that she had won first prize at the last character party in the same character—Becky Sharp.

Immediately after the awarding of the prizes refreshments were served on the large rear veranda.
The judges were Mr. A. G. Harmon and wife, Major Johnson, Judge Garnett and wife, Mr. W. F. Gray and wife, Mr. John D. Lottier and Mr. Wilson.

Among the recent arrivals may be mentioned the following: Mr. Lewis Miller, of Baltimore; Mr. G. F. Miller and wife, in the parlor, Mr. Elliot Watson, Winston, N. D.; Mr. William R. Robbins, Richmond; Mr. H. B. Chandler, Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Brasham, Rome, Ga.; Mr. R. S. Dawsey, Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. J. S. McHenry, Washington, D. C.; William A. Wrenn, Norfolk, Va.; E. P. Piosh, Elmira, N. Y.; Mr. S. J. Allen, Richmond; Mr. R. N. Dalby, Texarkana, Ark.; Mrs. Frank Moore and son, Houston, Texas; Messrs. James Gardner, Sol. L. Bloomberg, Sam W. Bigger and C. A. Boyce, Richmond, Va.; Mr. Alex. Fitzhugh, Vicksburg, Miss.; Professor Thomas Fitzhugh, University of Virginia; Mrs. Mattie A. Fitzhugh, Miss Janette Nash, of Baltimore; Mr. Robert W. Holland, Bel Air, Md.; Mr. R. R. Carpenter, New York City; Mr. E. W. Harwood, Newport News, Va.; Mr. G. H. French and Miss Rials, Washington; Miss Lizzie Kitchin, Richmond; Mr. George C. Rod, of Norfolk; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stone, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. George C. Jordan, Baltimore, and W. P. Palmer and wife, Richmond.

Delightful Fishing.
Ex-President Cleveland is amazed and delighted at the excellent fishing he finds in Maine at Meddybemps lake. Then let him keep on and cast the hook into Syladobets.

NORFOLK PEOPLE

OFF TO MOUNTAINS

The Hampton Roads Yacht Club Sails Its Last Race of the Season.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NORFOLK, VA., Aug. 22.—People are leaving these days to enjoy the September days in the mountains, but there are still many arrivals at the seaside resort. The Hampton Roads Yacht Club today sailed another regatta, the last of the season perhaps. There is general regret that the match between Baltimore and Norfolk was not sailed this summer.

Mr. Almond A. Blow, who has come to America to live after many years spent as a mining engineer in South Africa, is a former Norfolk man, the son of the late Judge Blow. He and his family have sailed for New York aboard his new power yacht Kosogaa to witness the yacht races.

Mr. Walter Edw. Harris, the distinguished Washington correspondent of The Times-Dispatch, while here with the Olympic Commission, was greeted with much pleasure by his many friends. He formerly resided here.
Mrs. Henry V. Lucas, of St. Louis, has arrived at Ocean View to spend the remainder of the summer.
Mrs. Ernest Griffith has been in North Carolina for several days.

Miss Florence Smith was awarded the diploma for the finest display of China painting at Chautauque, N. Y. Mrs. E. Maxwell, also of this city, received an honorable mention for her work.
Rev. Forest J. Pratt, of Washington, D. C., and Mr. Edward Ehrlich, of Columbia, S. C., are the guests of Bishop A. Coke Smith, at his cottage, at Wiltoughby Beach.

DELIGHTS OF OLD SWEET

The Children Have Their Inning in Their Own Way.

PROGRESSIVE EUCRE

Birthday Card Parties Are Much Enjoyed, and Bowling Is a Popular Sport—Fishing for Black Bass.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
OLD SWEET, August 22.—The children have had their innings this week. First there was the "tacky party," in which while diverting themselves, they very highly amused their elders. The grown-ups haven't had so good a laugh for a long time as the little folks gave them. The cake-walk was a gem. As "Sis Hopkins," Miss Della Davenport, of Richmond, brought down the house and won the prize. She was simply delicious, in costume devised by her cousin, Miss Talley, and with manner devised by her own very cute and original self. "Della," "Della" rang in overpowering chorus around the room, as the procession of funny little folk marched before the judges, Della bringing up the rear with a gait that was of itself enough to convulse observers and capture the first prize. He was very cunningly gotten up as a "hayseed." The prizes had been donated by Mrs. Fisher, of Galveston, who, with Mrs. Schaefer, of Clinton, Ohio, took quite an interest in helping the small people get up their entertainment. Professor Patterson presented Miss Della with her prize, and Mrs. Dawson (wife of the Secretary of State of West Virginia) conferred their prize upon Master Roy Fisher, and Mrs. Ball provided refreshments.

Then Mrs. Armistead Wellford gave a candy-pulling Wednesday at 5 P. M. to her two little nieces, Henington and Josephine Ellett, her daughter, Camille Wellford, whose guests were Margaret Curd, Della Swearingen, Della Davenport, Dorothy Wilkerson, Lydia Ruffner, Mamie Schaefer, Helen Moffat, Josephine Ellett, Ruth Ellett, and Mrs. ephine Pinckney, Gladys Taylor, Carl Helson, Fox, Gwendolyn Rutherford, Carl Helson, Bernard Jones, Camron Lewis, John Britton, Louis Higgins, Wallace Henderson, Herbert Davis, William Fisher, Roy Fisher, Armistead Wellford.

Lalla Swearingen won the girl's prize and John Helton the boy's prize for pulling the whitest candy. It was a great success.

JUVENILE COACHING PARTY.

Then the children had a joyous coaching party one day; the big quaint coach overhauled, top and bottom, with little folks, as it went lumbering out of the yard behind six horses to the tune of much singing and shouting.

Master Carl Helson's watermelon feast, at 7 P. M., by moonlight and candlelight, was great fun; his guests had a good time and much watermelon.

There was a very swell progressive euche party at Lewis Cottage, Tuesday evening, when Mrs. Lewis, of Charleston, W. Va., received a large quota of the "smart set." Here the cake and cream and wine served were of a quality to make those who partook was eloquent in their praise. The prizes were won by Miss Spilman, of Richmond; Mr. Crawford, of New York, and Mr. Frank Payne, of Charleston, W. Va., and Mrs. Catchings, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

No card party of the season has been more thoroughly enjoyed than was Mrs. Denn Talley's. Miss Kate Talley assisted her mother in receiving and entertaining the guests. There was a handsome supper for every table, and an excellent program. The prizes were won by Mrs. Maury, of Richmond, an exquisite sterling silver paper knife; Mrs. C. C. Lewis, of Charleston, W. Va., a lovely Wedgwood glass.

BIRTHDAY CARD PARTY.

Miss Rodman, of Louisville, one of the most popular ladies at the Springs, made many folks glad that Wednesday was her birthday, when, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Grubb, she entertained her friends at a very charming card party. Seven-handed euche was the game; there were a large number of tables and a handsome prize for each. Among souvenir winners were Mrs. Hester, of Richmond, who captured an exquisite vase; Miss Ruffner, of Charleston, W. Va., a beautiful cup and saucer; Mrs. Brown, of Louisville, a bonbon dish; Mrs. MacKay, of Covington, Ky., a cut glass, silver-stoppered scent bottle.

Another lady who made folks glad that she had a birthday is Mrs. Crawford, of New York. These were winners at her card party: Dr. McCaw, first prize, a handsome silver pen-holder; Mrs. McCaw, a cut glass silver powder shaker (everybody wants one just like it); Mrs. Frank Woodward, bonbon tongs; Mrs. Archibald Patterson, bonbon dish.

The card party of Mrs. Brown, of Louisville, included a most excellent program. Mrs. Brown, of Louisville, a pleasant new member, won first by Miss Rodman to join the company; also Mrs. Pinckney, of Charleston, S. C., and Miss MacKay, of Covington, Ky. Dr. McCaw won the first prize, a handsome "crazy" glass (cut), silver-chorded. Mrs. Lefroy, of Richmond, won an exquisite Colossone jar; Mrs. Frank Woodward, of Richmond, a silver pin tray; Mrs. Prescott, a silver powder box; Mrs. Carson, the "army toast" frame.

Mrs. Higgins and Mrs. Barnes, of New York, at their card party Friday morning, entertained Messdames Talley, Davenport, Maury, Donaldson, Woodward, Wellford, Archibald Patterson, Mrs. T. N. Carson, Lefroy, Misses Ruth-erford and Powers, of Richmond; Messdames Hindman, Prescott, John Patterson, Ferguson and Brown, of Louisville; Mrs. Edward May, Asheville, N. C.; Mrs. C. C. Lewis and Mrs. Payne, of Charleston, W. Va.; Mrs. Thomas Pinckney, of Charleston, S. C.; Mrs. Crawford, of New York, and, of course, Dr. McCaw, who is the guest of honor at every party.

Among the handsome prizes captured were a silver bonbon dish, Royal Dresden almond dish, cut glass silver bowl, cut glass scent bottle.

Mr. John Britton, of Washington, gave a recherche little card party Wednesday evening to Miss Erin Payne, of Galveston, who won the first prize, a silver bell in a dainty case.

Mrs. Fields' bowling party was very much enjoyed by her guests, some of whom were Mrs. Ament, Misses Payne, Mr. Field, Miss Erin Payne, with a splendid score, won the first prize, a handsome purse.

TALLEY COTTAGE.

Talley Cottage is one of the most homelike and attractive here in its appointments and personnel, as everybody fortunate enough to be entertained there knows. Miss Kate is one of the finest young women here, and there isn't a more popular man on the place than her brother, "Handsome Dan."

Helsen-Terry Cottage, with its hospitable veranda, cosy tea table, inviting hammock, gracious hostess and pretty maidens, is always a place of meeting. There was a porch party Wednesday evening, in spite of the rain—or rather all the cheerier because of it. Among those present besides the Misses Helson and their cousin, Miss Catchings, were Misses Davenport and Tompkins, of Richmond, and Messrs. Talley, Terry and Mullen. After the party the young ladies were serenaded by a number of gentlemen, who, after the good old fashion, played mandolins and guitars beneath their stars, singing love songs very sweetly.

Three days before Miss Myrtle Helson gave a coaching party to Beaver Dam Falls. The young people mentioned above were present, and some twenty others.

A straw ride to Raven's Roost, and a picnic at the Falls, were two of the best things that ever happened. The picnic was given by Miss Frederick, of Earl-hurst, and these young folks were guests: Misses Talley, Tompkins, Davenport, Spilman, Helson, Catchings, Messrs. Talley, Garrison, Garnett, Catchings, Kloeber, Waller and Baird.

A FISH STORY.
Our fishermen are still making fine records. Mr. D. D. Talley, of your city, and Mr. A. M. A. Guano, of Norfolk, under the adverse condition of a partially muddy stream, succeeded in landing thirty-one black bass recently.

Sportsmen are making ready to "bag" fine mountain game. Mr. Talley is looking for it in the mountains, and if he is as lucky hunting as fishing, his table will be the envy of everybody in the dining-room.

In the handicap golf tournament, Miss Pauline Powers, of Richmond, and
